First Twins in 15 Months Born at Hospital Here

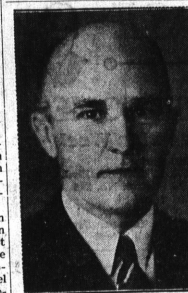

The first pair of twins to be born at Torrance Memorial hospital since the James H. Scott pair arrived Oct. 26, 1937, were ushered into the world at 9:40 yesterday morning.

They were the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mathews of 834 1/2 Sartori avenue. Mathews is employed by the Howe Construction company of San Pedro. Both Mrs. Howe and her boys are making splendid progress, it was reported today.

The twins are the only boys in a nursery of five girl babies born at the hospital during the past week. The young ladies were claimed by: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Myers (he is a Columbia Steel worker) of 4415 Torrance boulevard, last Sunday; Mr. and Mrs. Merton Gilbert (he is a gardener) of 1222 Anapola, last Thursday afternoon, and Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Campbell of Manhattan Beach, last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Collins of Hermosa Beach welcomed a daughter last Saturday and Mr. and Mrs. T. Onote of Redondo Beach, greeted a daughter on Monday.

Larger the City, Bigger the Hicks, Always Holds True, Says Professor

ROBERT H. SCOTT

The presiding judge of the Superior Court was re-elected president of the Los Angeles Metropolitan Area Council of the Boy Scouts of America Tuesday. There are 15,018 boys in Scouting in this area at the present time, more than in any other U. S. city except New York and Chicago.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (U.P.)—Native New Yorkers are the nation's real hicks, according to Prof. Mark Jefferson of Ypsilanti (Michigan) State Teachers College.

Dr. Jefferson told an American Geographers Association meeting here that his opinion was based on a study of the world's greatest cities.

"The native-born inhabitant of a nation's metropolis tends to be 'narrow and limited,' he said.

"He thinks he created his city's character, which in many cases he does not even share. He is the nation's true provincial in failing to recognize the contribution of the local regions of the land."

Dr. Jefferson's survey of the largest cities of the 40 most important countries of the world, particularly as city size is related to each country's national character, revealed a "law" of growth of the largest city of any country—a type he calls "primate."

The so-called law is that "a country's leading city always is disproportionately large and exceptionally expressive of national capacity and feeling," he said.

"Once a city larger than any other in its country, this mere fact gives it an impetus to grow that cannot affect any other city, and it draws away from all of them in character as well as size," he said.

Most inhabitants of the "primate cities" were born in the provinces, were attracted by the great market for superior skills and intelligence, and brought with them a local contribution to the composition of the places, he said.
